THE GRAND OPERA-HOUSE .- Our theatrical public had a fine opportunity of witnessing the varied talents of Miss Fannie Davenport last night in Augustin Daly's emotional drama, "Frou-Frou." Miss Davenport shows to better advantage in plays of this school than in the legitimate, and her rendition of "Gilbert" last evening was simply grand—if we may be allowed to use the grand—if we may be allowed to use the expression as applied to a sensational character. It was not until the fourth act, however, that great force was called for, and then Miss Davenport surprised even her most ardent admirers. She threw a force and energy into the part that no one, judging her by her "Lady Teazie." could have supposed she possessed. Messrs. Roche, Bradley and Fiske rendered a very efficient support, especially the latter, who, with the exception of the one scene during the rehearsal of the play, where his cries of "bravo" were a little too boisterous and kept up until monotonous, showed conclusively that he had a perfect conception of the part, and played it in a manner that none but the hypercritical could pronounce faulty. "Frou-Frou" again to-night.

WOOD'S THEATER .- "Colonel Mulberry

WOOD'S THEATER.—"Colonel Mulberry Sciliers" drew another large audience last evening, who were not slow to perceive the truth of the Colonel's remark that "There's millions in it," that is in Mr. Raymond's play, and that at no distant day, for each night brings an audience larger than the preceding one, which proves that the "Sellers" excitement is not spasmodic but lasting.

THE NATIONAL .- The "Shadow Detec tive" drew a large audience last night, and Mr. Nichols greatly increased his reputation as an exponent of the sensational. The variety performance was also of the very best.

The Health Officer on Small-Pox.

It has not been generally known that small-pox was prevailing to a serious extent in this city. Such, however, is the fact. The policy of the Health Board has been to keep the matter as quiet as possible, so as to cause no unnecessary alarm. The efforts put forth by the sanitary police to allay its progress by using disinfectants have so far proved futile, and the scourge has at last become a matter of serious consideration. The Health Officer, backed by the Board, has been battling with the disease but it is constantly on the increase. It is claimed that the Board has no authority by law beyond the use of disin-fectants, and recently an attempt was made to get an ordinance through Coun-cil investing the Board with further pow-ers. With the power to placard houses where the disease is known to exist, it would to a certain extent prevent its spread. This the Board now seeks.

J. J. Quinn, Health Officer, at a meeting of the Board yesterday afternoon, presented, among other facts and figures, the following.

presented, among other facts and figures, the following:

The disease visited Cincinnati in 1868, and during that and the following year carried of 871 victims. It again pre-vailed in epidemic form in 1871 and 1872, claiming in the former 887 and in the latter of these years 658 victims. During the first eight months of 1873 forty-eight parsons died of the disease. From that THE Street Railroad Committee yesterday decided to recommend the making of a single route with one fare from Sportsman's Hall to Fourth and Walnut, and to allow the collection of five-deat fares on Route 9, provided it runs from Ernst Station to the Suspension from Ernst Station to the Suspension before the city, except a single one in May, 1874.

The disease was introduced into the city about the beginning of the year by DE. Lord's historical lecture on "Chrysostom," yesterday afternoon, at College Hall, was well attended and a success in every particular. The subject was handled in a peculiarly happy and original style, and the lecture exhibited much research and careful thought. Cincinnati may congratulate herself upon having obtained Dr. Lord's services as a lecturer and an instructor in this particular line.

At Union M. E. Church, on Years, and the disease by research of the disease was introduced into the city about the beginning of the year by tramps. Information was given to the different medical sections and to plug and to the different medical sections and to the dif unprotected persons encountered in their practice. The Board of Education, through its President, has been twice requested to co-operate in preventing the spread of the disease by requiring all pupils attending the Public Schools to be protected by vaccination, and saved from exposure by contact in the school-room with children from intested houses.

Unless power can be obtained to enforce necessary sanitary measures, there is reason to be apprehensive of as severe an epidemic of small-pox as that of 1871 and 1872, which hurried more than afteen bundred human beings to untimely graves. Such a result can hardly fail of realization if parents will, as many do, neglect the vaccination of their caildren; if the healthy members of a family and their friends are permitted to enter the chamber of small-pox patients; if visit-ors to such patients will return to their own homes laden with the subtle virus of the disease upon their clothing; it children from infected houses are permitted to attend public or private schools and associate with other unprotected schoolsrs; if infected beds, bedding and clothing are permitted to be ventilated from windows in close proximity to those of adjoining houses, or sent, without disinfection, to be washed in the close room of some poor, unsuspecting washerwoman; if bodies of persons deceased of amultinov are boat for sons deceased of small-pox are kept for days before interment, or taken with large concourses of mourners to churches tor lengthy services before burial; it cleanliness and all the laws of sanitary science and bygiene are set at defiance. The total number of small-pox cases reported at the Board of Health Office during the present year is 649. The deaths from the disease have been 194, vk.: 2 in January, 14 in February, 8 in March, 8 in April, 25 in May, 20 in June, 20 in July, 17 in August, 25 in September and 55 in the present month.

and 55 in the present month.

Every house in which a case of the disease was known to have occurred has been visited by a Sanitary officer, cleanliness of person and premises has been urged; ventilation, disinfection and in some instances fumigation of rooms and houses have been employed. These measures have not been without great practical benefit and if without great practical benefit, and if they could be enforced in all cases the disease would no doubt soon disappear. But the Board of Health, it would seem,

Oysters.

Now is the season of the year when the "aceptalous mollusks," more commonly known as oysters, are in great demand, and the musical voices of the waiters in the various restaurants are heard singing, half dozen on the half shell," "one stew," and sundry such idioms of the oyster world. But oysters, to be pleasing to the epicure, must be served properly, and there is no place in the world where these juicy bivalves are whom you may know), using our Planosin 41 set before one in better style than at Renner's popular salcon, corner Fourth and Central avenue—Mr. Por Yors in charge, demand, and the musical voices of the

It spears from official statistics that between the years 1822 and 1872 no less than 500,000 perpersons have been banished to Siberia; yet there has been scarcely any perceptible increase in the population, and now, as fifty years ago, there is not one inhabitant persquare verst.

The reason of this is that the number of persons who make their escape irom of persons who make their escape from Siberia continues to be very great. The great number of criminals and escaped great number of criminals and escaped convicts in the country prevents its development, and the Minister of Communications urges that the time has arrived to place Siberla on the road to progress, and relieve it of the disgrace of being the home of criminals. This view finds many advocates in the Russian press, and it is said that the commission appointed to draw up the new criminal code is of a similar opinion.

The other day, Sam Bowles went to church in Springfeld, Mass., and feel-ing the effects of his severe editorial labors through the week, went to napping. By and by he was awakened by the preacher, who struck his desk and shouted: "Who shall be able to stand up in the presence of the Lord on that awful day?" And Sam Bowles, rising in ful day?" And Sam Bowles, rising in his pew, remarked: "Charles Francis Adams is the only man that can do it, and I nominate him for the position."
